Art Unit: 3744

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claim 24 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over 4,941,324 to Peterson et al, newly cited. Peterson et al discloses the claimed invention of an air conditioning system including first and second liquid/air heat exchangers 12 and 14. Each heat exchanger has a blower 16, 46 for moving air through the heat exchanger. Each heat exchanger also has a liquid outlet 34, 40 above the evaporative media, a dripping chamber, and a reservoir 24 and 26. Pumps 22 and 22 pump the liquid media from the one heat exchanger into the other heat exchanger. See especially column 4, lines 55-62. However, Peterson et al does not disclose the claimed air flow through the system. The claimed air flow of the one heat exchanger receiving outside air to the conditioned space and the other heat exchanger receiving air from the conditioned space to the atmosphere is considered to be a matter of obvious choice to one of ordinary skill in the art. No criticality or unexpected results are seen or have been disclosed for the claimed air flow. Furthermore, one of ordinary skill in the art would be able to arrange the air flows as needed or desired without undue experimentation.
3. Claims 1, 2, 4, 5, and 7-23 are allowed.
4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 24 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground of rejection.

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
